What is a cookie?

A "cookie" is technology that allows Our Site to store tokens of information (an 'identifier') in your browser used only by Our Site while you are on Our Site. They serve to help us track traffic patterns to determine a user's preferred location and language so that we can direct them to the correct country home page when they visit Our Site.

Cookies have other uses as well. For example, in the Quicke Configurator section, they are used to provide dealers who have chosen the automatic log-on feature during registration.

How do I disable cookies?

If you do not want to receive a cookie from Our Site or the Quicke Configurator section, you have the option of setting your browser to notify you when you receive a cookie, so that you may determine whether to accept it or not. However, please be aware that if you do turn off 'cookies' in your browser, you will not be able to fully experience some of Our Sites. For example, you will not be able to benefit from automatic log-on of the Quicke Configurator Section.
